

This map displays the distribution of meteorological stations across the Iberian Peninsula. A large area in the northwest, covering parts of Galicia and Asturias, is highlighted with a color gradient from yellow to orange, indicating a specific meteorological region. Numerous stations are marked with red squares and labeled with codes such as MSG-01, S02-01, and others. The map also shows major rivers, coastlines, and a grid of latitude and longitude lines.

